Exploratory Analytics using Information Dashboards
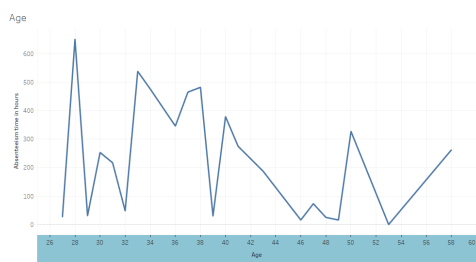

Absenteeism at work is an important aspect when it comes to development of organization as well as of an individual. It is a need to

A number of factors affect absenteeism at work

The main goal of exploratory analytics is find which affects the most and suggest measure to minimize the same.

From, analysis it is found out that age is important attribute that affects work the most. The youth tend to miss work more as compared to others.

Along with this work load and performance measure can also severely affect work

Conclusions :

- Taking health conditions of employees is an important aspect.
- Reduce workload by increasing work force.
- Efficient offs to provide family time and stress relief.